

CONTENTS

The Romans begin to conquer Central Europe	8
Marcus Aurelius in the mid-Danubian region	9
The Column of Marcus Aurelius in Rome	10
Romanisation	11
AUSTRIA	12 – 77
1. VIENNA – VINDOBONA ON THE NORTH-WEST BORDER OF THE PANNONIA SUPERIOR PROVINCE Ala camp – Legion camp – Military town – Civilian town	16
2. FROM VINDOBONA VIA THE FRONTIER ROAD TO KLOSTERNEUBURG AND TO THE PROVINCE BORDER Vienna-Heiligenstadt – Vienna – Leopoldsberg – Klosterneuburg – Gugging	22
3. FROM VINDOBONA ALONG THE LIMES ROAD TO CARNUNTUM Vienna-Unterlaa – Schwechat (Ala Nova) – Fischamend (Aequinoctium)	28
4. PETRONELL-CARNUNTUM – BAD DEUTSCH-ALTENBURG, THE CAPITAL OF THE PANNONIA SUPERIOR PROVINCE Legion camp – Legionary city – Auxiliary unit camp – Civilian town	34
5. THE IMPERIAL ROMAN ROAD (AMBER ROAD) FROM CARNUNTUM TO THE FOOT OF LEITHAGEBIRGE HILLS Höflein – Bruck an der Leitha – Bruckneudorf	48
6. THE COUNTRY LANE ALONG THE LEITHAGEBIRGE HILLS TO SCARBANTIA AND BACK TO THE DANUBE NEAR VINDOBONA Königshof – Kaisersteinbruch – Sommerein – Margarethen am Moos – Mannersdorf – Hof am Leithagebirge – Au am Leithagebirge – Loretto – Leithaprodersdorf (Mutenum) – Weigelsdorf	60
7. FROM CARNUNTUM EASTWARDS ALONG THE DANUBE Bad Deutsch-Altenburg – Hainburg	71
SLOVAKIA	78 – 121
8. FOLLOWING THE AMBER ROAD NORTHWARDS, BEYOND THE ROMAN EMPIRE FRONTIERS Bratislava-Devín – Bratislava-Dúbravka – Stupava – Mušov (the Czech Republic) – Trenčín (Laugaritio)	82
9. ALONG THE DANUBE ROAD FROM CARNUNTUM TO GERULATA Bratislava – Bratislava Castle – The Old Town – Rusovce (Gerulata)	94
10. THE BARBARICUM LANDS, FROM BRATISLAVA TO KELEMANTIA Bratislava-Podunajské Biskupice – Boldog – Semerovo – Želiezovce – Komárno – Iža – Leányvár (Kelemantia)	108
HUNGARY	122 – 197
11. ALONG THE RIGHT BANK OF THE DANUBE, FROM GERULATA TO BRIGETIO Mosonmagyaróvár (Ad Flexum) – Máriakálnok – Gönyű – Győr (Arrabona) – Komárom (Brigetio)	126
12. FROM BRIGETIO TO AQUINCUM – THE HINTERLAND ROUTE Tata – Neszmély – Tekeres-Patak – Kalin-Hegy – Tokod (Gardellaca) – Keszthely	142
13. FROM BRIGETIO TO AQUINCUM – ALONG THE DANUBE BEND Esztergom (Solva) – Búbánatvölgyi – Pilismarót-Basaharc – Pilismarót (Castra ad Herculem) – Visegrád – Gizellamajor – Lepence – Kőbánya – Sibirikdomb (Pone Navata) – Vác – Leányfalu – Szentendre (Ulcisia Castra)	150
14. BUDAPEST – AQUINCUM, THE CAPITAL OF THE PANNONIA INFERIOR PROVINCE Ala camp – Legion camp – Military town – Civilian town	170
Glossary	198 – 199

As its title suggests, the publication Roman Monuments on the Middle Danube – from Vindobona to Aquincum presents a unique guide to the surviving Roman monuments in the territory of Slovakia and its adjoining countries. A result of cooperation between specialists from three neighbouring states, the book is aimed above all at the general reader. Although the Roman province of Pannonia included only areas on the right bank of the River Danube such as Gerulata, the Roman settlement unearthed in Bratislava-Rusovce, this guide also covers nearby Carnuntum and Vindobona (Vienna) in today's Austria, as well as Arrabona (Győr), Brigetio (Komárom) and Aquincum (Budapest) in present-day Hungary – and so enables you to follow the traces of Roman presence by boat, or over land by car, bicycle, or on foot. That the Romans in their campaigns against the Germanic tribes ventured beyond their Empire's border fortifications line (Limes Romanus), the River Danube forming a substantial section of the frontier, is evident both from the Roman inscription carved on a cliff in Trenčín and from ample findings in Mušov, the Czech Republic. Remains of Roman forts and outposts, as well as unique stonework artifacts later re-used as masonry material in church walls or standing as solitary roadside landmarks may be admired in Slovakia, too. The book, with its selection of computer-graphic reconstructions, maps and illustrations, helps give the reader a vivid picture of the Ancient Roman world which flourished on our territory two thousand years ago.